RESPECTFUL, ENGAGED AND ACTIVE LEARNERS

November 2020

Term 4 has been a very busy term for Mitchell High School. By the time you read this newsletter our class of 2020 would have completed their HSC. We still have a few days to go but it has been a great relief to get to this point in HSC exams without serious disruption. Organisation and communication have both been near perfect and the students have managed the pressure and extra complexity of this year's operation with a large proportion of calmness and good humour. It is also lovely to see more smiles as many have now actually finished. We are looking forward to celebrating at the Formal and again in a month's time when HSC results come out on December 18.

For our new Year 12 students it is the beginning of their HSC studies and I have been so impressed with their overall commitment. As I walk around the school it is wonderful to see our students working collaboratively on assessment tasks and course work. Teachers have reported to me how committed they are and believe they have made an excellent start. Attendance data suggests a very positive improvement in overall attendance and punctuality.

I would like to thank the students, teachers and the wider Mitchell High School community for all of your support throughout 2020. The year has certainly been a very unusual year. Mitchell High School is justifiably regarded in our community as a fine school. We maintain high standards and in return our students gain a fantastic education no matter what nature throws our way.

School improvement is a continuous process centred on maximizing outcomes for all students and sustaining this improvement over time.

Currently the school is undergoing the process of self assessment in order to analyse our current situation with regard to student outcomes and teaching and leadership practices. Data and evidence is being gathered from various sources including surveys from students, staff and parents.

The feedback and input from parents and community is essential in our self assessment and assisting with planning and future direction as your opinion plays a vital part in our strategic planning.

A note from Mark Scott Secretary for Education Thank you Teachers

Last Friday was World Teachers' Day—a wonderful opportunity to thank the great teachers that change students' lives every day. They are always incredible, but this year our teachers stepped even further into the spotlight and shone. World Teachers' Day was our chance to say thank you for your great professionalism, dedication and resourcefulness.

I couldn't agree more with these sentiments. Our school is very fortunate to have such a dedicated team of teachers. Certainly this year has highlighted the calibre and professionalism of our teachers. Thank You.

NAIDOC Week

At Mitchell High School, we acknowledge we are on Dharug land, whose people are the traditional custodians of the land we learn on. The cultures and customs of all nations, particularly the Dharug have nurtured and continue to nurture this land since the Dreaming. This always was and always will be, Aboriginal land.

We recognise Aboriginal Australians' continuing connection to the country, water and community. We pay our respect to elders, past, present and emerging.

NAIDOC Week is being held this year from 8-15 November. This year's theme is Always was, always will be, which reflects the connection Aboriginal peoples have had and continue to have with the land. The poster, titled Shape of Land, was designed by Noongar and Saibai Islander Tyrown Waigana. He describes the poster as the following:

"The Rainbow Serpent is represented by the snake and it forms the shape of Australia, which symbolises how it created our lands. The colour from the Rainbow Serpent is reflected on to the figure to display our connection to the Rainbow Serpent, thus our connection to country. The overlapping colours on the outside is the Dreamtime. The figure inside the shape of Australia is a representation of Indigenous Australians showing this country since the dawn of time, always was, and always will be Aboriginal land."

A reminder to all parents, school will conclude on Wednesday 16 December 2020.

2021 Staff Development Day (SDD) Changes

To support a strong start to 2021, school staff will now have two school development days at the beginning of Term 1.

For 2021, Year 7 & 11 students will return to school on Friday 29 January 2021. Years 8, 9, 10 & 12 will return to school Monday 1 February 2021. School term dates for 2021 are now available.

Maths

As the end of this crazy school year is year is drawing to a close, there are a few things that need to be taken care of.

Mathletics/Edrolo in the holidays

There are programs available for students to utilise over the holiday to revise and consolidate topics ready for 2021. Yr 11-12 students are especially encouraged to revise the year 11 content.

Yr 10 students planning to study Advanced Mathematics should be seeking advice from their teachers on how to prepare for the senior course.

Return of Textbooks

Students are reminded to check at home for maths textbooks issued this year and return them to their maths teachers after their examination. Any student who has lost his or her textbook needs to contact their maths teacher for replacement costs.

All senior students need to return their textbooks to the Library after completion of the course.

Equipment for 2021

To be prepared for maths lessons in 2021, students should start by doing the following.

They need to purchase the following equipment:

1. A scientific Calculator – School is selling Abacus SXII MATRIX for $25. Students need to pay at the office and take the receipt to the maths staffroom to get the calculator.
2. Exercise books - Students need to purchase 3 to 4 ruled A4 size books with margins. The books are sold at bargain prices at Officeworks from January onwards.

Have a safe and happy holiday break from the Maths Faculty.

The creative mind of Ella Suarez has been at it again with 3 more amazing poems. You may remember her poem 'This Big Wave' in the last newsletter.

Pain

My chest is heavy...constricting breathing seems like a past memory from so long-ago, a hazy existence that life has now extinguished voices grow louder, stronger, commanding echo's through my ears and into my dreams why won't they leave me alone?

I try gasping and squeezing for air to come save me
I try to scream but no sound
Still I am silent
my heart oh, how it pounds, how it aches pounding my throat like a warning drum my body is shaking
A cyclone moves through my world with little control I place my head between my knees
I pray for this to pass and wait it at ease

Then, motionless somebody tells me to breathe, breathe now breathe!
but it's harder than it seems,
It's hard when I'm not in control,
It's hard to breathe when your heart is in my throat and the air is almost gone slowly suffocating me from inside, stopping me from being, I yell and try to ask for help.
my body finally lets me speak and forces me to tell lies, like it's holding a gun pointed at my friend's head
I dare not say the wrong thing .... Otherwise its game over.

I think, maybe if I listen to music the voices will go away, maybe if I do what I'm told I'll be okay
I'll stop suffering, I won't resist, I can't make it worse, maybe if I try hard enough the people who hurt me, will like me, maybe if I act normal the names will stop and school will stop being a war zone
these voices are killing me slowly.

I often wonder, what happened to the little girls smile that was once my own,
the girl who always saw the good in all and everywhere the girl who was in control and loved by all the girl who was so sweet just like candy were one couldn't tell the difference why are those days gone and why did the world change and torture her?

taking her for granted using her
because she was oblivious

Why do people think it is okay?
Why do they think of her like an object?
They know she won't say a thing because she is polite, properly raised
All she ever wanted was to make things right
For others to be happy
Maybe that was my big mistake

I thought my purpose was to make others happy
So, I allowed then to mold me and reshape me tearing me to shreds stretching me like Play-Doh
but they were never satisfied they wanted more of me
They molded me so much I couldn't be remolded again
I couldn't be fixed
I've dried out,
forgotten and thrown away

Too much time has passed
And because of everything...
I'm scared to open up
The loaded guns have their fingers on their triggers Ready, aim, fire!!!

The walls of my heart and mind are so wide and tall
They always told that I didn't matter whenever I tried to open up and share the little things, people turned them into big furious lies and then they transformed into a hovering wasp.

Stuck in the back of my mind memories paused on rewind it's torturous all because he managed to get back into my life
He stole the happiness from this little girl
And he was the one she tried to help
Forgive and forget is what she tried
Still the memories won't allow her forget

When he walks by my dam of memories the walls break
And a flood of words, images, fear and pain cripple me and the cycle of suffocation begins again

Golden Land

The sun in the sky
Your skin is always tanned
That's the way it should be
On this Golden Land

The animals roam and graze freely
And the plants grow brown
The way it should be
On the land that's now golden and drowned

Your chair where you left it
Where the fire once kept your back warm
That's the way it should be
On the golden land that's now torn

The cards on the shelf
Your coffee cup still stained
That's the way it should be
On the Golden Land that has been drained

The dogs wait at the fence
That will always stay the same
That's the way it should be
The Golden Land that was almost aflame

The ground always crunches
Its cracked and dead
That's the way it should be
On your Golden Land that turns red

This land will never feel the same
Its lifeless and silent
It's so out of place
Who knew the silence was violent?

The land was once full of life
Maybe not physically but still
I wish it still was.....
Why does life have to kill?

The fire will still burn
Even when you're not there
Your spot will never be stolen
Its filled with empty air

I walked out on that land
And for once you weren't there
No one to tell me the stories
I couldn't forget, my heart wouldn't dare

How where you smiling
That question still remains
Why the cheeky grin?

Why wasn't it wiped plain?

Why where you smiling?
I could never leave that thought
Why weren't you scared
Was the pain not caught?

So, I'll sit with the dry wind
I'll sit on the Golden Land
I'll sit with your ghost
On this now lonely land

I'll walk out to the field of gold
It will be grand
Your ghost will stay with me
on this now lonely land

I'll walk out not scared
On the dirt that feels like sand
Your ghost hand on my shoulder
On this now lonely land

But most importantly,
When dusk falls I will stand
I'll smile with your ghost
As I once did
On this once lonely land

Ella Suarez

Your Eyes

Her eyes are blue,
Your eyes are green,
Yours carry Earth,
And hers carry the sea.

Her eyes are blue,
Like a blue sky on a clear day,
Like the ocean
Or like a sunny clear bay.

But yours are green,
And although you wish they were blue,
Your eyes are rarer,
Although you wouldn't have a clue.

Your eyes carry mountains,
Hold the rainforest with a stare,
Yours eyes hold emeralds
With your skin beautiful and fair.

But yes, her eyes are blue,
Beautiful and bright,
But they hold hundreds of secrets,
Things you couldn't see at first sight.

Yes, you wish her eyes were yours,
But they carry heavy storms,
They can carry monsters from the deep,
And they could take many forms.

So be grateful you have eyes of green,
Even though they have also hold pain,
So be grateful your eyes have seen the light,
They have seen it through days of rain.

Yes, your eyes are green,
And her eyes are blue,
But your eyes are filled with luscious forests,
And hers are like the morning dew.

Your eyes hold evergreens
That could touch the clouds,
Your eyes are untouched beauty's,
You don't need to worry about crowds.

Her eyes hold fields of flowers,
Like Hibiscus, bluebells and glory of the snow,
So beautiful they must be picked,
Sometimes they don't even get a chance to grow.

So yes, her eyes are blue,
But what if she wished they were green?
What if she wished they were hers?

What if she wanted to be her own queen?

What if she hated her eyes of blue?

What if she wished they were green and rare?

What if she envied your eyes?

What if she wished she could have your powerful green stare?

What if she wished she could hold mountains in her eyes?

What if she didn't want to hold the day sky's?

What if she was getting sick of all the storms?

Sick of all the monsters that take many forms.

What if she wished eyes weren't like the sea?

What if she wished she could hold the tallest trees?

What if she wanted to be the grass instead of the morning dew?

What if all she ever wanted was to be like you?

Yes, you wish you were like the girl with Blue eyes,
But what if the way she was living was all just a lie,
Yes, you wish you were beautiful and the Queen
But be grateful that you're the girl with eyes of green.

You're unique and special

No one could be the same.

Just remember you're both fighting fire

And Both have an individual flame.

Recently we have witnessed an increase in incidents involving students vaping on the way to and at school. We take this issue seriously due to the negative health effects vaping can have on young people, who are often unaware of the risks associated with vaping.

Vaping is the act of inhaling a vapour produced by an e-cigarette or electronic vaporizer. The vapour can contain nicotine & other substances. The devices are small & can be easily hidden in a pocket or bag. The most popular disposable vapes resemble large USB sticks or highlighter pens. There are many variations that may look like the following:

The example of vapes (as pictured above) contain 5% nicotine which is the equivalent of a strong pack of cigarettes or 300 puffs. Nicotine is addictive & can harm brain development, it can impact learning, memory & attention.

The vape device & accessories are a prohibited item at Mitchell High School, during the school day & when in school uniform. Vaping, selling vapes or being in the possession of vapes will result in a suspension. Students who are in the company of others who vape will be regarded as equally guilty in aiding & abetting those vaping.

Selling of vapes & e-cigarettes to people under 18 years of age is illegal. Students are not to purchase items, share, swap or sell items to other students on the school grounds.

We are asking parents to be informed & speak to their children about this ongoing concern, for them to make positive decisions for themselves. Additional information to support parents & students can be found at

<https://www.health.nsw.gov.au/tobacco/Pages/e-cigarettes.aspx>

THE CRITICS' CHOICE

The health effects of tobacco smoking and e-cigarette use

Effect of tobacco smoking on your health:

- Smoking is the main cause of preventable death and disease in Australia!
- Smoking is linked to 40+ diseases, including lung cancer, liver cancer, emphysema and eye and mouth diseases.
- When you smoke, extremely harmful chemicals enter your body and can reach your heart, brain and go everywhere your blood flows.
- Smoking affects how you look and feel.

Effects of e-cigarette use on your health:

- E-cigarettes contain chemicals that haven't been tested for safety when inhaled into the lungs.
- E-cigarette makers don't list all their ingredients and it can be hard to find out what they are. Some e-cigarettes contain nicotine even when they are labelled "nicotine free".
- Nicotine is highly addictive and can harm your brain development.
- Studies have shown that young people who use e-cigarettes are more likely to smoke and become addicted to cigarettes in adulthood.

Smoking can:

- Stop your lungs growing properly and make you less fit.
- Give you tooth decay and sore or bleeding gums.
- Make you wheeze or trigger an asthma attack.
- Cause addiction to the drug nicotine.

Using e-cigarettes can:

- Make you wheeze or trigger an asthma attack.
- Make you moody, anxious and irritable.
- Expose your lungs, body and brain to harmful chemicals.
- Cause addiction to the drug nicotine.

Smoking and e-cigarettes affect your brain:

Your brain is particularly sensitive to the effects of nicotine. Your brain is still developing until you are about 25 years old, so if you use nicotine your brain may not be able to properly develop. This means that you are more likely to develop anxiety and mood disorders.

What does all this mean for you?

Smoking or using e-cigarettes:

- is bad for the health of your body, lungs and brain
- costs a lot of money and can mean you miss out on doing fun activities
- exposes you to addictive and unknown substances
- gives you yellow teeth and unhealthy gums.

By choosing not to smoke or use e-cigarettes you are setting yourself up for a healthier and happier life!
